from the chancellor

The Editor of Garnet 1961 has given me a warm invitation to address a brief message to the students of the University and, particularly, to the members of the graduating class for this year.

Never have young Canadians faced a period of greater challenge or greater opportunity. The scope of our national development promises to be greater during the next few decades than at any time in our national history. On the other hand, there are in a sense no national questions any longer as all problems have become global in scope.

Individually the need for trained and devoted leadership increases. This can be met by those who are fortunate enough to have a university background in, at least, three ways. There are: (a) devotion to one's own family and immediate community; (b) the performance of a full measure of duty in relation to the profession or job undertaken whatever that may be; and (c) the acceptance of community responsibility in a practical way in relation, for example, to church or synagogue, educational, social and recreational organizations of a constructive nature, community government at its various levels.

In all this, may I express the hope that you will not forget your alma mater. In these days of increased government concern for education, many develop an unfortunate and mistaken concept that everything should be left to governmental agencies. The maintenance of our free institutions demands that persons of ability and high ideals should be associated with the direction and maintenance of our universities and schools.

To all of you, I extend my personal best wishes for a happy and satisfying career of service.

B. W. Roberts
Chancellor

from the principal

It is a pleasure to address a brief greeting to all Georgians through the kindness of the Editor of the Garnet 1961. Such a book will, no doubt, become the prize possession of those who are fortunate enough to graduate this year. It will, no doubt, be examined with interest and shown to friends. Then it will probably be put away to be re-examined years later with nostalgic memories.

To the graduates and students of 1961 I send sincere greetings on behalf of their University. It is my most sincere wish that you should meet the challenge of the day and endeavour to serve your country and the world in accordance with your highest ideals.

To those, whose fond recollections bring them back to this book, may I also send greetings across the years. I hope that added maturity has confirmed your faith in the deepest values of life and also that you look back to teachers and classmates and friends with understanding and affection. May many good years yet await you!

garnet key

The Garnet Key Society, the university's honour society, has been performing its varied duties since its formation in 1956. Membership in the society is the highest honour that may be awarded to an undergraduate. Members are elected in consideration of scholastic standing, contributions to extra-curricular life, and personal character. The society's functions include the orientation of students to college life, providing ushering services and other general assistance to the university. The President of the Garnet Key for the 1959-60 period was Mr. Richard Leslie.

The Georgian N.F.C.U.S. committee was quite busy this year carrying on contact with the Canadian university scene. To this end members of the committee participated in conferences throughout the country.

The federation is responsible for obtaining lower travel fares for members as well as the formation of a group life insurance plan.

The federation's regional vice-president, Peter Vita, and the debating commissioner, Andy Courey, are both members of the Sir George group. These men, along with other hard working members continue to uphold our position in inter-university relations.

World University Service is an international organization which offers material aid to students and faculty through profits from Treasure Van. This project was handled by Peter Wilkins at our University. It began in 1920 as a European student relief project and when immediate needs had been met the organization continued to operate as International Student Service.

The Arts Faculty headed by Dan Coates once again gave direction to the annual Careers Conference held in Birks Hall.

The Conference hosts representatives from major businesses and industries to interview prospective candidates and outline aspects of their business and training programs.

commerce faculty

President: Eddie Sinclair

One of the major events sponsored by the faculty exec. is Commerce week. A week devoted to inform students of the various fields of commerce, this year sponsored tours of an oil refinery, a brewery, and presented a panel of experts in the world of sport. Another highlight was a discussion of the railway-union problems.

science faculty

John-Pierre Soler — President

The major programme of the Science Faculty was a two-day Science Seminar, sponsored by the Imperial Oil Company. By various tours and lectures the students were presented with the historical, scientific and economical aspects of the oil industry in Canada.

engineering faculty

The Engineering Students Faculty is the official voice of students in this associates course. Although their programme was rather limited this year it provided a focal point around which this group could gather.

The aim of the Day Division Women's Association is to sponsor extra-curricular activities for women. Meetings are held each month featuring many diverse events. With voting power in the S.U.S., the association enables women to enjoy an equal share in university activities.

The Evening Woman's Association is concerned with programming activities for the female evening students. Every woman evening student is automatically a member and can take part in the general meetings. Among the events sponsored are the Children's Christmas Party, dance classes, bridge lessons, a charm course and several dances in Birks Hall. These extra-curricular activities offer diversion from the pressure of work and studies.

President: Dennis Chandler

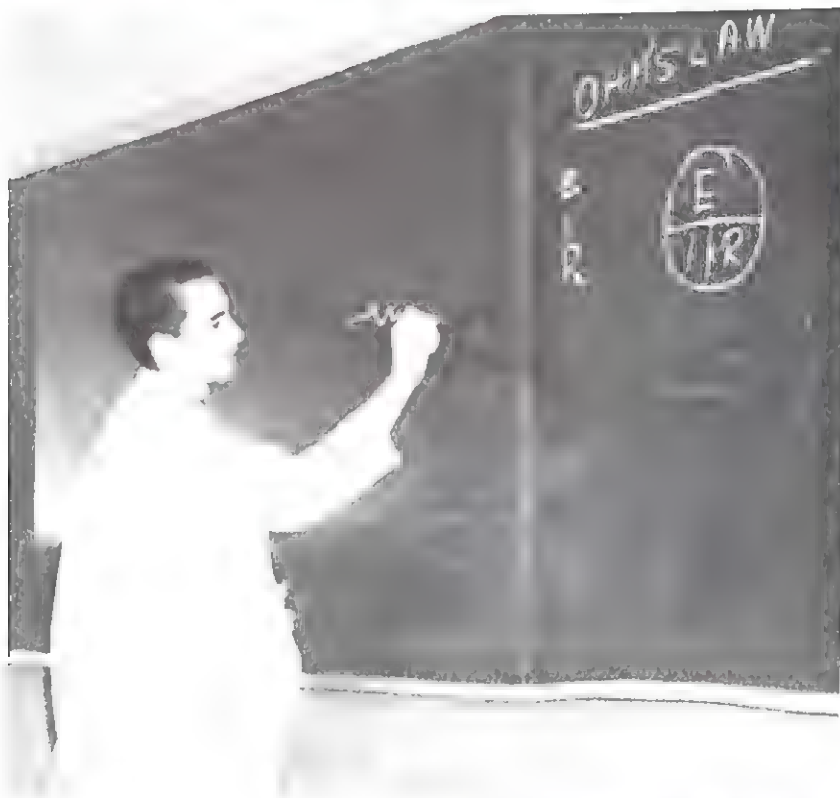

The emergence of African Nations provided material for speakers and films to highlight the groups activities. Mr. Khalid Babaa of the U. A. R., Mr. Goshal of the New York Guardian, and Prof. T. Hodgkin of Oxford all provided informative lectures. A delegation from the group also participated in the Model Security Council at St. Lawrence University.

amateur radio club

With Milan Konecny's leadership, the club enjoyed a busy schedule this year. Members received basic training through a program of radio theory lectures, Morse code practice, and participation in their Ham station VE 2 BAW.

The club's publication Oscillator, keeps members informed of "what's on the go in radio". Communications are made with the University Amateur Network to maintain contact with other college Hams.

The Chemical Institute of Canada Student Chapter offers to the potential chemist an insight into the newer branches of Chemistry. Programmes are planned with both the Industrial and Research Chemist in mind. The annual tour of a Chemical Industry this year was to Hawksbury for a survey of a pulp and paper industry.

math-physics

President — Fernando Galiana

The Math-Physics Club is affiliated with the Canadian Association of Physicists. At the meetings, lectures and discussions on pertinent topics are held. One of the major features of the club is an annual trip to Chalk River. Monthly tours to industrial companies prove of interest, as well. All students who enjoy sciences find these programs stimulating.

"Work in Europe this summer," say the posters, and many lucky accountancy majors do just that. The AIESEC program is a Commerce students exchange program which endeavours to place students with major European firms for summer employment.

georgian flying club

President — Gerald Benson

Flying, whether by the propulsion of air currents or of powerful engines, always gives one a feeling of elation and accomplishment. In the Georgian Flying Club all members are similarly motivated and united by a common bond of interest in aviation. Because of their ambitious project — the purchase of a glider — the members have been receiving instructions in meteorology which is so necessary to the successful flying of gliders.

debating society

President — Mike Miller

The year 1960-'61 has been a brilliant one for this society both within Sir George and without. The society co-sponsored the Mock Trial and held many "run-off" debates within the university. In Inter-Collegiate debates our debaters brought honour to Sir George by their achievements at Rochester, Toronto, and the McGill Winter Carnival. One can only wish this society continued success.

georgian film society

President: Hans Pinagel

A varied and interesting program of films formed the activities of the club this year. To help insure the appreciation of a large part of the student body, a questionnaire was handed out at each movie in which everyone was urged to state his or her opinion. The wide range of presentations included abstract and experimental films.

folk music society

President: Richard Rotholz

By means of concerts, hootenannies and sessions of recorded music, those students who are interested in folk music have the opportunity to enjoy and learn the music of various lands. Such outstanding singers as Mel Howard and Ed McCurdy were presented. Many have also enjoyed the informal and often impromptu "sing-songs" in the common room.

chess and bridge club

President — Leonard Tobman

The Chess and Bridge Club, a new club this year, held its day-long meetings in the Y.M.C.A. It was reported that the mental grinding of wheels and hints of back-seat drivers spread to the darkest corners of the building. In addition to these twice weekly meetings, the club held several tournaments.

the infernal machine

As usual, the Georgian Players embarked this season on a very busy and highly successful program. In addition to the theatrical productions, panel discussions and lectures were offered as well. A new project this year was a theatre library. Beginning hopefully, if not outstandingly, with the two Canadian plays "The Trojan Horse" and "Riders to the Sea" for the Christmas Workshop, the group reached near professional standard in Jean Cocteau's "Infernal Machine". Sydney Johnson of the Montreal Star called it the best amateur production of the year but for several faults. For the I.V.D.L. Festival in London, Ontario, Jean Paul Sartre's "No Exit" was presented. Georgians were given the opportunity to view it during Arts Festival 1961.

young mens' business club

President — Richer Beaudette

The purpose of the Young Men's Business Club is to promote the interchange of general business knowledge among the members. Although the club unfortunately got off to a slow start this year, they nevertheless finished on a sound note. The last of their activities was a visit from Mr. Bertrend, the Third Secretary of the Cuban Embassy in Ottawa who discussed "Cuba and Western Trade."

jazz society

President: Geoffrey Plomer

In the words of the immortal Louis Armstrong "Jazz is the thing that folks dig most." The Jazz Society of Sir George makes its contribution to the jazz-loving section of the student body by organizing jam sessions, and inviting guest speakers from the jazz world. The most notable this year was Herbie Spanier who gave a series of talks on Jazz.

fine arts festival

Sponsored by the Cultural Committees of the SUS and ESA, Sir George students were able to enjoy a week long cultural program. The program consisted of an evening of Folk Dancing, art displays in the main lobby, plus discussions and lectures in the basement of the building.

Logic and Religion, Academic Freedom, Existentialism . . . were some of the many topics discussed by guest speakers over the past year for our newly formed Philosophy Club. A subject of controversy was their bi-monthly tabloid "Skeptic" which sought to clarify or sometimes confuse the various subjects constantly discussed by Georgians over cups of coffee.

President — Michael Rowan

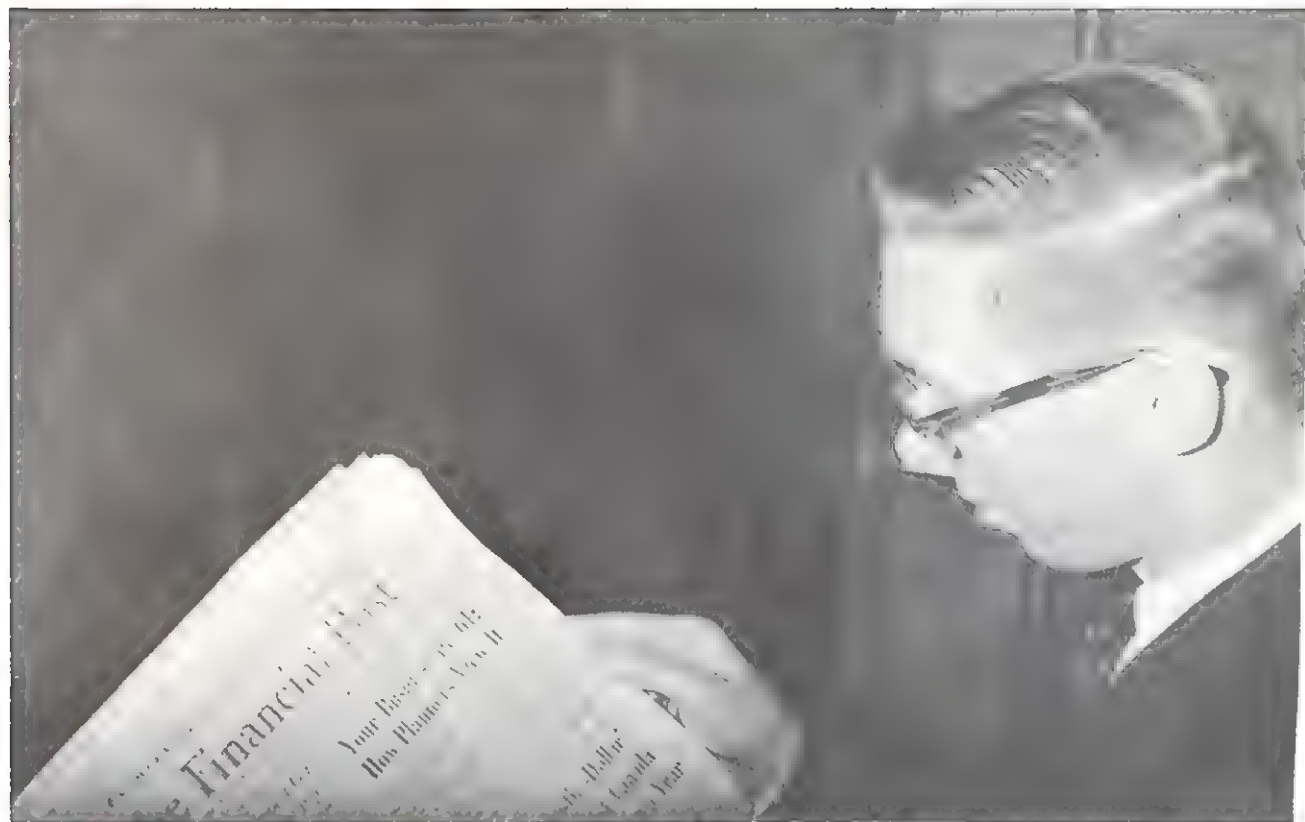

geography society

President — James Donoghue

Speakers from various Consulates were invited to give guest lectures, to this fledgling club. A highlight in their program was a study of audio-visual aids for teaching. A trip to Ottawa and Carleton U's was held in February and a tour of the Asbestos Mines in March.

economics society

President—Serge Entine

After a respite of three years, the Economics Club is again active. The year, however, was not as successful as was hoped because of organization problems. Many activities had to be cancelled or postponed and guest speakers were drawn mainly from the Economics Department of the University. It is hoped that next year will be a more successful one for the club.

fine arts club

President: Carol Irgo

The newly formed club has been met with much enthusiasm by faculty and students. Although still in its formative stage, the club has shown enough initiative to present a Student Art Exhibit during the Arts Festival in March. Early in the year a well known Canadian architect, Victor Prus, entertained the members with his novel ideas about his art. Future plans are geared to bring about a more humanitarian view in the university.

choral society

President: Jeff Field

Those with singing ability and some without gather informally to enjoy songs ranging from folk music to selections from Broadway musicals. Each Christmas, carolling has been the tradition and this year the club performed at the Montreal General Hospital and on radio station CKGM. Besides their own Spring Concert the club also sings in the annual Winter Carnival Show.

psychology club

President — Tom Rosenthal

Aimed at acquainting the psychology majors with the various branches of psychology, the program this year consisted of lectures in the approach to psycho-therapy, a study of hypnosis and its role in psychology and introduction to various research in animal psychology. In addition a tour was held of the Verdun Mental Hospital.

newman club

President: Treffle Lacombe

The Newman Club of Sir George is the rallying point for those of the Roman Catholic faith. Its programme, which goes beyond the religious sphere to the educational and social as well, includes the annual Newman Ball. Theological discussions, talks by various well-informed persons, have featured in this year's activities.

student christian movement

President: Milton Dorman

The Student Christian Movement transcends the boundaries of religious sects and presents Christ as a "source of abundant and challenging life for the individual, society and the world." In a programme of worship, discussions, and guest speakers, the movement also tries to appeal to those who are non-Christian. It holds out the challenge to students to go overseas as engineers, doctors, etc. and to help in work camps.

President: Allan Roness

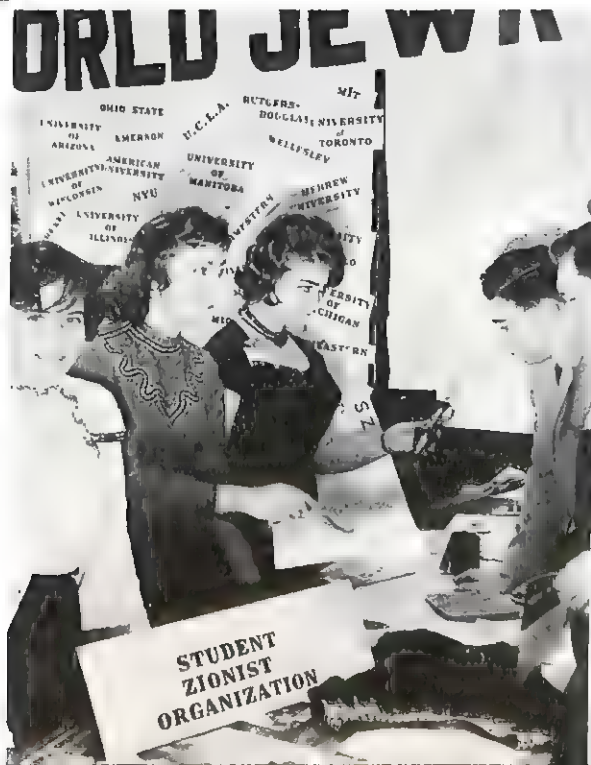

The B'nai B'rith Councillorship is the recognized Jewish Community at Sir George Williams. The programs sponsored this year at Hillel House have been lively and controversial. Mr. Frazer, Mr. McCullough, and Mr. Lerner, professors at the university participated in the opening discussion program called "Nazism in Canada." Several films and speakers then appeared. A highlight of the activities was the much publicized debate between Professor Toynbee and Dr. Herzog.

S.Z.O.

President: Saul Panossky

To achieve a better understanding of Zionism and the State of Israel, students were invited to attend a variety of programs including films and debates. In conjunction with the Social Democratic Club, the group presented Mr. A. Waldman who spoke on "Socialism in Action". A major highlight of the year was the three day Regional Seminar in Ste. Agathe, which took as its topic the political parties of Israel.

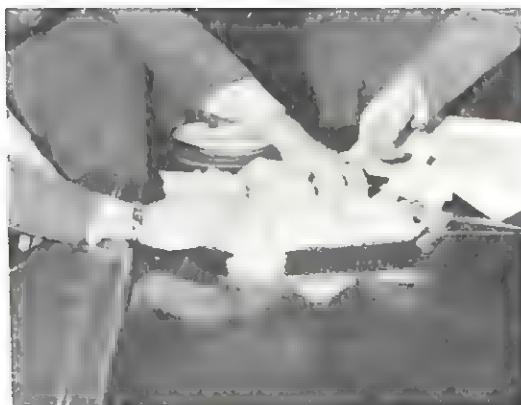

tri-service

The Sir George complement of the UNTD (Navy) makes its home aboard HMCS Donnacona. The COTC (Army) has its mess on Sherbrooke St. and URTP (Air Force) joins with McGill at Sir Arthur Currie. The members of all three services are required to attend at least one parade a week and to participate in summer training. On the completion of these basic requirements they are awarded a Queens Commission in Canada's armed forces reserve. This year was made memorable by the various social functions, mess dinners, cocktail parties and the Tri-Service Ball.

CLUB

The ten top shots in the club constitute the Sir George team that competes in the Canadian University Rifle League. Annual events include a turkey shoot and clubs trophy competition. Regular competitions are also held for Pins, Crests and Trophies.

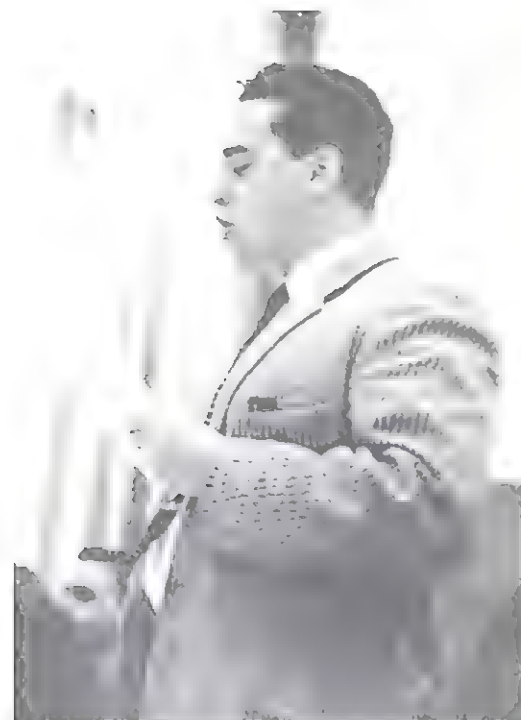

liberal club

President: Lawrence Bergman

This student organization of the political party in Ottawa attempts, by its activities, to acquaint the students with the work and policy of the liberals. This year such speakers as Mr. Richardson and Mr. J. Scott led discussion groups and gave lectures. In the Model Parliament, held in February, the club took twenty-eight seats, showing their wide following.

conservative club

President: Stan Cornell

The Conservative Club this year has not been as active as in the past. However members of the Conservative Club took part in the Model Parliament and were hosts to over 150 student delegates, M.P.'s and Cabinet Ministers at the Macdonald Cartier Conference held at the Queen's Hotel; members also attended the Annual Convention held in Ottawa.

social democratic club

President: Bernard Bloom

The Social Democratic Club of Sir George is a microcosm of the macrocosm, the Social Democratic Party of Canada. In the role of propagating the ideology of the Party, among the students, it sponsors guest speakers, discussions, and most important of all, takes part in the Triparty Model Parliament.

west indian society

President: Bruce Lobban

"To preserve a West Indian consciousness among West Indian students" and this is most noticeable when the temperature falls below 30° F. when they all became unidentifiable on account of the profusion of clothes. Because of the scarcity of qualified speakers on West Indian affairs, the Society has had to be content with a person to person relationship to spread a knowledge of the islands to the students. The Christmas Party and the Federation Week, which coincides with the celebrations in the West Indies, highlight their programme.

chinese georgian association

In a programme intending to "Canadianize" the Chinese student population, and to introduce some of the Chinese culture to the Canadian student, the Chinese Georgian Association has had another successful year. Skating, a sport foreign to their native land, was introduced to them. Their yearbook, under the new name of the "Eastern Star" was published, much improved in size and quality.

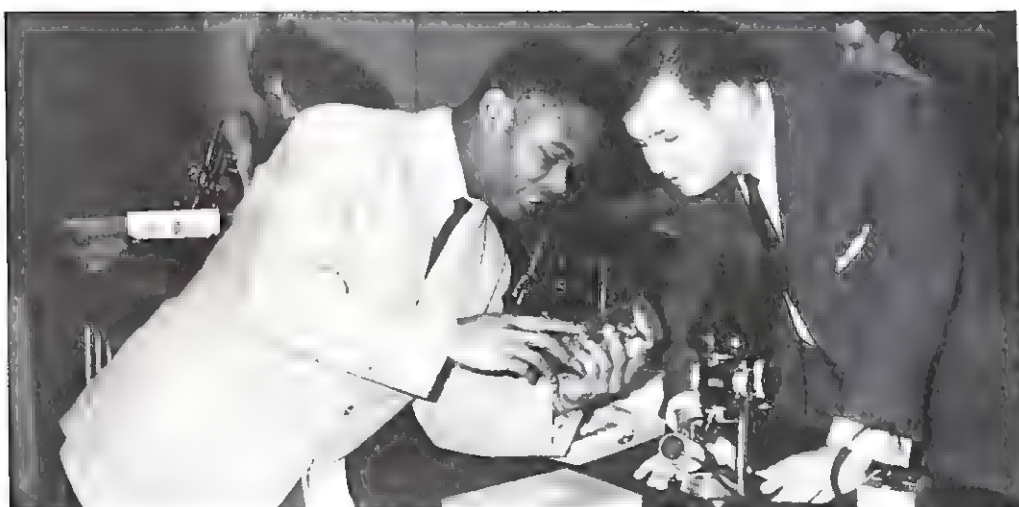

The Pre-Med, Pre-Dent Society affords the interested student the opportunity of knowing before hand what is entailed in these professions. Films, in colour, are shown which re-create actual operations which were performed in various hospitals. The Society is also responsible for the Blood Donor Clinic which was more successful this year than in any previous year.

pre-med, pre-dent society

President — Leonard Blanshay

The purpose of this society is to give interested students a preview of the legal profession. To achieve this end, many speakers are invited to give talks and to discuss some aspects of the legal profession with the students; among the speakers this year was Mr. Charles Gavsie C.B.E., Q.C. A novel event this year was a Mock Trial based on actual court records — the Arts Faculty and the Debating Society co-operated with the Pre-Law in this event.

The Garnet is a tremendous work which comes out with hard work, in hard cover, hardly a day late, annually. Layout people are those brave souls who flunk a couple of courses annually in order to draw some weird lines in a book. Thankfully when the book finally appears, students are known to come running to the editors with heavy congratulations — "My picture was only in twice". Since the editors are getting paid, by the hour, these remarks are welcome and appreciated, (they inevitably consume more time).

The Evening Newsletter is the only publication at Sir George William's University concerned solely with the interests of the Evening Student Body. As these students make up the major portion of the enrollment in the university, an organization to promote and publicize events planned for them is necessary. It is the belief of the editor, Brian Seville, that this monthly newspaper can be a powerful vehicle as it is mailed to all the evening students and read by a great number of them.

africa in transition

An attempt to understand the emergence of Africa in world affairs was the theme of our second annual seminar. Participants from universities throughout Canada and the U.S. totalled over three hundred. Dr. Shacter of Boston U. delivered the opening address and in the following days of the conference, leading authorities on Africa were heard voicing their opinions on the historical, cultural, and international aspects of that great continent.

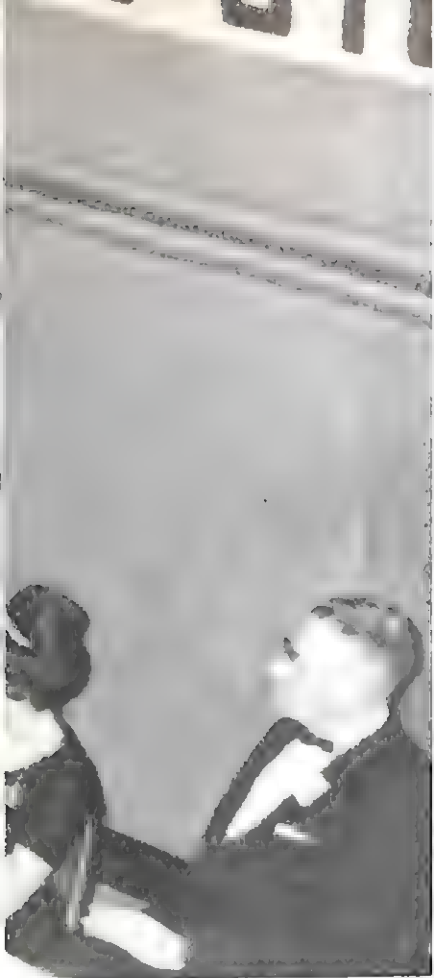

evening student conference

The first International Conference of Evening Student's Councils, attended by over 100 student and administrative representatives of eighteen universities, was opened with an address by Dr. J. Kidd in which he stated that "the evening student is the best student we have." In the following days of highly successful conference discussion groups exchanged techniques of student government in various universities. Tom Galley, E.S.A. president and organizer for the conference, was unanimously elected the first president of the newly-formed "International Association of Evening Student Councils."

national debating tourney

When NFCUS selects their National Debating Commissioner, the honour of sponsoring the National Debate automatically goes to the selected members' university. Bob Bennett, taking over late in the year for Andy Courey who resigned, has been unable to reach agreement with other universities on the date for this debate. The Western Universities have pulled out, and it is uncertain at the moment if the tourney will be held this year.

Effective extra-curricular programming was the topic of the Second Annual Student Leaders Conference which was attended by nearly one-hundred students. The opening address was delivered by Asst. Clarke, who closed the conference, received a standing ovation for his historical account of our University.

II I

HIGHLIGHTS

freshman week

Each year it has been the purpose of the university to assimilate students into the rarified atmosphere of higher education. Freshman Week is the vehicle towards this end.

A prologue is offered

. by the Clubs Rally which was held this year on Saturday, Sept. 24th in Birks Hall. Mayor Sarto Fournier, Dr. Hall, as well as several university officials were present to address the new students. The most informative part of the event was probably an explanation, by student leaders, of various university organizations. With the words still freshly imprinted on their minds, the Frosh were given the opportunity to join the clubs of their choice. (Actually, they were trapped.)

With the official opening of Freshman Week, the students quickly fall in with the atmosphere of fun and nonsense. Bewildered, badgered and harassed Freshmen (yet smiling all the while) could be seen from Monday on, dutifully submitting to the rules of their fate. It was not unusual to encounter one such soul on his hands and knees before an overbearing upper-classman mumbling, "O most supreme, learned, and honourable scholar."

This year's idea of appointing an upper-classman as big brother or big sister to ten Frosh held a good deal of merit. The service these students performed in assisting the Freshmen to become oriented to Sir George Williams University was a much needed one. On the other hand, they were the "secret police" who knew exactly the extent of the participation of the new students. Their information along with that of other sources would provide the evidence for the Mock Trials on Fun Day, Friday.

A men's Smoker was held on Monday at noon. Tex Coulter was the distinguished guest speaker. Coinciding with this was the Freshette Luncheon in Budge Hall. Dr. Racheal Wasserman spoke of the responsibilities of women in the university. One can presume that the men were informed of their duties as well. (football?)

The day was highlighted by the judging of the Frosh Queens. Though selection was difficult (Sir George has ALWAYS been known for its beautiful women) thirteen semi-finalists were chosen from the thirty "hopefuls". The Freshman Queen and her attendants, or faculty queens, were unofficially crowned on Wednesday.

The following days events such as the Folk Singing participation, sponsored by the Folk Music Society, the Frosh-Upperclassman grudge football match (for which no Frosh showed) and the Tea Dance, Thursday afternoon comprised several of the anticipated events. The latter was characteristic of the thoughtful planning and organization that went into all of the Freshman Week.

At the Mock Trials Friday an unexpected tragedy was to occur. Before the startled eyes of many freshman, Michel Levine, a first year Arts student collapsed and died as he participated in the Freshman Week activities. The students and faculty alike displayed their depth of understanding and sympathy by cancelling the remaining portion of the program. The unfortunate incident was handled with the discretion and tact it merited in these unusual circumstances.

Credit must be given where credit is due. In this case it should be extended to the persons responsible for the efficient and capable management of this year's Freshman Week activities, co-chairmen Alex Hecht and Jean Pierre Soler. Everyone concerned in the organization of Freshman Week '60 may give themselves the proverbial "pat on the back." An Orientation as well thought out as this year's might very easily prove a standard for future reference.

The largest and most successful Evening Students Orientation Night was held this year on Thursday, Oct. 13 in Birks Hall. The audience was given the opportunity to familiarize themselves with activities of the 30 clubs exhibiting. Prizes were given for the best booths, top honors going to the Chinese Georgian Society. At the Gaieté Parisienne Dance, Saturday, trophies were given to the winner and runners up. The Blue Sky Review, an amateur variety show, was held in Budge Hall; which was followed by an equally popular fashion show featuring Lydia Fashions; Mel Weiner, singing and playing guitar, ended the entertainment for the evening.

blood doner's clinic

The Blood Doner's Clinic is an annual event in all the universities of Montreal. Sponsored by the Pre-Med Society for the Red Cross, this year's clinic surpassed all expectations, with a record-breaking 624 pints of blood. A well organized publicity program aided in the success of the clinic. The presence of such personalities as Denny Vaughn and Michel Choquette helped divert the attention of the squeemish.

Good grief! He's dead.

polio clinic

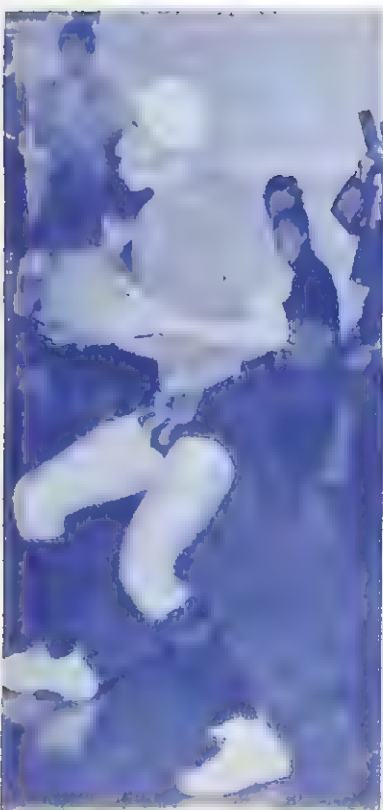

Due to the high percentage of polio cases in the past summer, a polio clinic was held to offer free vaccine to all who needed it. This worthwhile venture was held by the Science Faculty in collaboration with the March of Dimes and the Canadian Legion. To encourage participation, a competition was held for the highest number of vaccinations within a faculty.

jr. varsity basketball

The worn out cliché, "wait 'till next year," seems to be the slogan of the J.V.'s this year. The teams record, although not too impressive, was commendable considering the number of new players and poor turnouts at practices. It's quite possible that next year, if better practicing facilities are obtained, the Jr. Georgians will be a threat to the other teams in their league.

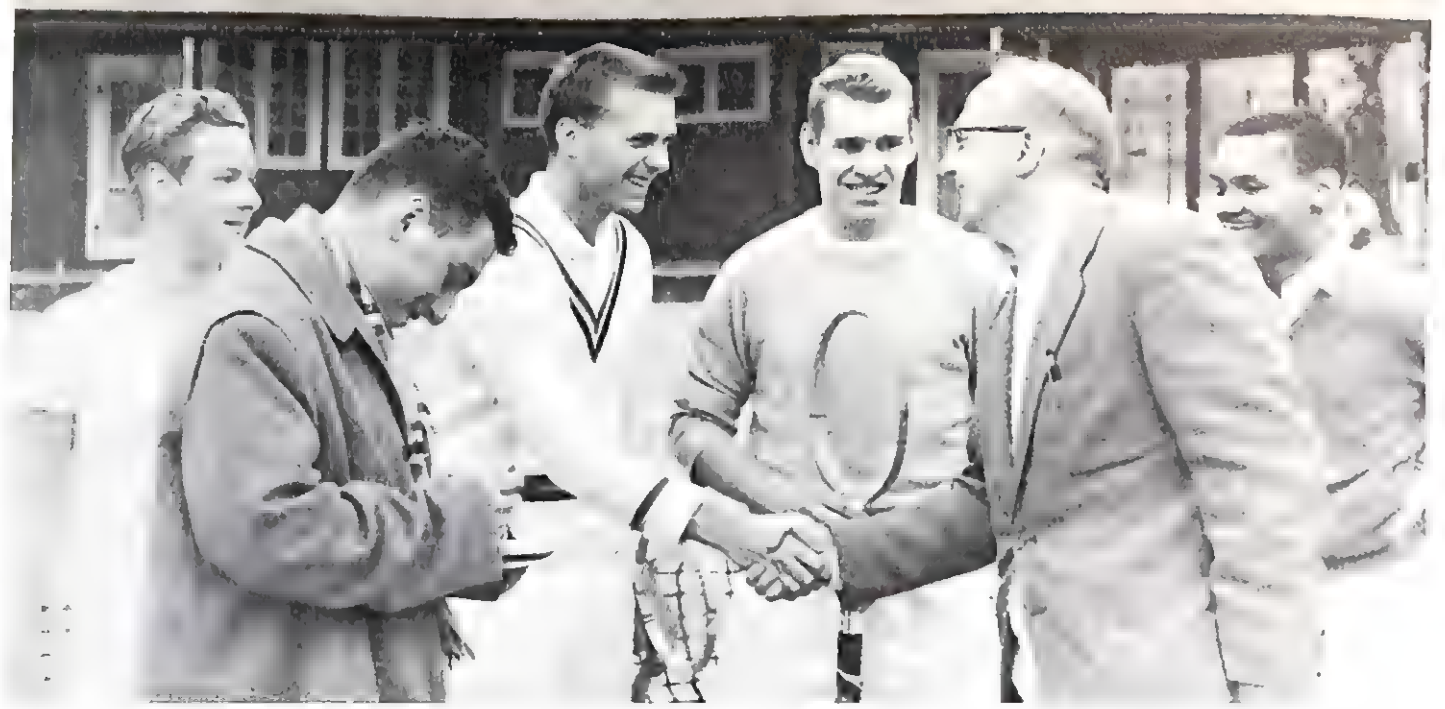

girls basketball

The girls team, coached by Maureen Ring, showed well against stiff opposition this year. The games, played at Montreal High, were a great source of pleasure to the players although spectator interest was poor. At the time of writing it is certain that the team will finish in the top section of their league.

BULLETIN: The girls came home with the title and the silverware.

tennis

The Tennis team, under coach Ken Thompson, competed in two tournaments this year. At MacDonald, early in the season, they defeated the Aggies quite handily. In the Ottawa-St. Lawrence tournament, at the capital city's Rockland Tennis courts, the team placed fourth against stiff opposition.

The golf team had an excellent season this year. Gordie Le Riche (who won the individual low gross), along with Arnie Barkoff, Bill Kerr and Ray Carmel won the Ottawa-St. Lawrence trophy. A week earlier, Sir George's foursome finished 5th in the C.I.A.U. tournament at Kingston, Ontario.

Led by a few outstanding players, and faultless teamwork, this year's soccer squad booted their way through an undefeated season. Fortunately, the absence of spectator support didn't seem to hamper the powerful team. With such a team in our colours, it is hoped that a greater following may develop next season.

water polo

Playing in a city league, early in the year seemed to give our boys the needed experience to cop the O.S.I.A.A. honours. Rookie coach Jim McBride led his poloists to two wins over both the R.M.C. and C.M.R. cadets to take the title.

swimming

With Lorne Jacobs breaking the conference records in all events he entered, our swimming team came home with second place from the C.M.R. meet. Their 67 points was sufficient to place them above R. M.C., MacDonald, and Loyola C. M. R. with 71 points won the meet.

hockey

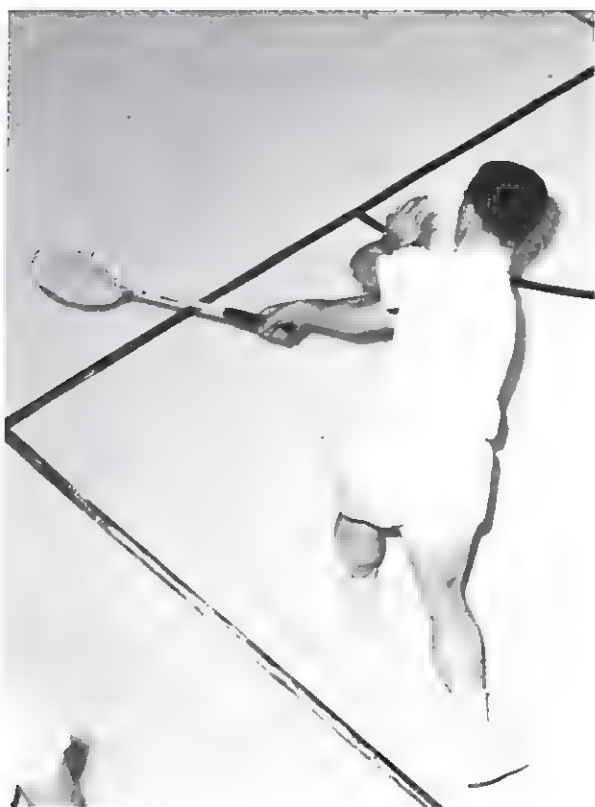

The Georgian icemen under the able leadership of coach Phil Laliberte took to the ice this fall with a spirit of optimism. From all indications it looked like a championship squad.

Several early defeats dulled the picture, however, and the outlook got bleaker with the loss of several team members due to academic pressures.

As the season drew to a close, morale picked up and in a hard-fought game against Loyola whipped them by a resounding 12-4 win to end the season and brighten the aforementioned picture.

The growth of squash at Sir George is apparent this year with many interested players being formed in a team to play matches with McGill, M.A.A.A., and other teams throughout the city.

Two mixed bowling leagues provided entertaining recreation for over sixty undergrads this past year.

Working out twice weekly at a local establishment, the teams enjoyed many exciting matches.

bowling

skiing

This year, the university ski team competed in one meet only. This was held at St. Lawrence University in Canton, N.Y. The team was composed of Lawrence Laing, Robert Russo, Lou Lukonovich, Rupert Dobbin, Dave Malette and Mario H. de Brentani.

Although the team managed to only place 9th, they made a commendable showing considering the fact that they were not able to enter the cross country event.

curling

The Georgian Curling Club enjoyed a successful season, entering different combinations in several bonspiels. The MacDonald College invitational bonspiel was won by a Georgian rink, skipped by Herb Miyashita. In Ottawa-St. Lawrence competition the Georgian rink, skipped by Rolf Hoppe, finished second to Bishop's by a score of 10-9, won in the last end. The Georgian rink also fared well in local bonspiels against Point Claire, Lachine and Westmount.

"IF YOU WOULD NOT BE FORGOTTEN
AS SOON AS YOU ARE DEAD . . .
EITHER WRITE THINGS WORTH READING OR DO THINGS WORTH THE WRITING."

Benjamin Franklin
Poor Richard's Almanack

The "Teen Talk" page in The Gazette follows the tradition of "writing things worth reading" begun in 1778 when The Gazette was founded under the sponsorship of Benjamin Franklin. In adding worthwhile information on your special interests to that of events in a fast-changing world, The Gazette keeps you informed and offers the possibility of continuing education long after your formal schooling has ended . . . so that, perhaps for you, the "reading" may become the "doing" of "things worth the writing".

Traditions that live

Strong and honourable traditions provide the foundation of firm training in leadership expressed today in the motto of the three Canadian Services Colleges: Truth-Duty-Valour.

Allied to the prestige of the past is a university degree education given by these colleges to the officer-cadets of Canada's armed forces. Carefully selected high school graduates are trained for challenging professional careers as officers in the Navy, Army or Air force, for the responsibility of holding the Queen's Commission.

to serve the Future

Through the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP) the Department of National Defence will sponsor a limited number of qualified high school graduates to obtain a university degree education, either at the Canadian Services Colleges or at designated Canadian universities. Full details of this sponsored education can be obtained without obligation from your nearest Armed Forces Recruiting Centre, or by mailing this coupon now.

Closing date for candidates applying for 1961 fall classes is 1 July 1961.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA is pleased to announce that the initial response to its Values in Education series has been more than gratifying. Hundreds of thousands of booklets have been distributed on request to all parts of Canada and the United States. These booklets, which are still available, deal with the advisability of remaining in school; existing scholarships and bursaries; technical and trade schools; school boards and their functions, and sports tips for teen-agers. Bulk shipments can be made to educators for distribution in schools.

Sun Life is now offering a further series of booklets in its Values in Education series.
'How to Get More Fun out of School' is directed to the young teen-ager. It is hoped that 'The Value of a College Education' and 'Why Study the Humanities?' will encourage young men and women to attend university and help them in their search for their proper vocation. Two booklets have been prepared for adults — 'Adult Education Today' and 'Educating Yourself for Retirement.'

Sun Life hopes sincerely that these booklets, and others to be issued in the future, will act as a stimulant on the young people of our nation and at the same time prove helpful to parents and educators alike in the performance of their duties. Sun Life will be glad to consider any suggestions concerning topics for future booklets.

The need to produce more and more steel for Canada's progress calls for trained minds in the steel industry. The future will open many opportunities to graduates in engineering, the arts and sciences, business administration, commerce and finance.

The graduate who finds an outlet for his abilities and energy at Stelco will be sure of a satisfying role in the story of a nation's growth, and of the rewards which accompany personal progress in a large, expanding organization.

How are you in MATHEMATICS?

For example: Add 16 plus 42 plus 50.

Don't be stingy with your answer, because motorists the world over say these three figures add up to more than they ever counted on. The figures represent the 16 refineries of the British Petroleum Group, the 42 countries served with superior petroleum products, and the more than 50 years of BP experience in all phases of the petroleum industry. Canadian motorists get the benefit of this half-century of world-wide knowledge and skill every time they drive into a BP service station for BP regular or Super Gasolines and BP Visco-Static Motor Oil.

Now! Go to the head of the class!
